click here for an overview of the series! film (plural films) is a term for "a succession of still images that create the illusion of motion when shown on a screen." this is the earliest form of a moving picture or "a visual reproduction of a motion picture". in the age of television, the term film is often used in the u.s. to refer to motion picture or video content that is recorded on film stock and projected onto a screen. this contrasts with film stock used in photography, where the film is moved continuously during the exposure. on the other hand, in countries outside north america, "film" refers to a motion picture film. german philosopher georg wilhelm friedrich hegel (1770-1831) was born in stuttgart as georg wilhelm friedländer and studied in frankfurt an der oder and berlin. he was one of the leading lights of german idealism, a branch of 20th-century philosophy that attempted to deal with the issue of the subject, particularly the way in which the individual related to the spiritual world. idealism is also referred to as german philosophy. hegel's main work was the phenomenology of spirit (phänomenologie des geistes), commonly translated as the phenomenology of spirit (gps). 5ec8ef588b
